

Nova Scotia

Nova Scotia's Department of Health and Wellness confirmed that there's no minimum age for minors to consent to a COVID-19 vaccine without their parent's approval. "Mature minors" can consent to vaccination if a vaccine provider finds them capable of doing so.

Resources:

- 1) http://policy.nshealth.ca/Site_Published/covid19/document_render.aspx?documentRender.IdType=6&documentRender.GenericField=&documentRender.Id=86621
- 2) <https://tnc.news/2021/11/29/children-can-get-covid-19-shots-without-parents-permission-nova-scotia/>
- 3) <https://cpsns.ns.ca/wp-content/uploads/2017/10/Informed-Patient-Consent-to-Treatment.pdf>
- 4) <https://doctorsns.com/contract-and-support/privacy-legislation/consent>